The Secretariat of the United Nations presents its compliments to the Permanent Missions of Member States to the United Nations and has the honour to refer to the Pool of Experts maintained by the Security Council Affairs Division. The Pool has been developed by the Secretariat to facilitate the recruitment of qualified specialists, on short notice, to serve for limited durations on sanctions monitoring groups, teams and panels (hereafter "expert panels") established by the Security Council to enhance the implementation of mandatory measures (sanctions) imposed under Article 41 of the Charter of the United Nations.

The Secretariat invites Member States to nominate individuals for consideration who possess a minimum of ten years of progressively responsible experience, including three years of field experience, in sanctions monitoring and investigations with a focus on one or more of the relevant areas of expertise:

- Armed groups
- Border control/customs
- Conventional arms
- Counter-terrorism
- Finance
- Humanitarian affairs/human rights
- International law
- Natural resources
- Regional issues
- Sexual and gender-based violence
- Transportation (maritime/air)

Members of the Pool will be eligible for consideration when expert positions become available. The appointment duration is in accordance with the terms of the mandate of the expert panel. Appointments include competitive remuneration, assessed based on the expert's level of experience.

Member States should request their nominated candidates to apply online at: <https://careers.un.org/jobSearchDescription/191928>

Only applications received through the online platform will be considered.

The decision regarding the inclusion of a nominee in the Pool will be made on the basis of demonstrated expertise, experience and educational background. In selecting candidates for service on expert panels, the Secretariat will pay due regard to the principle of equitable geographic representation and gender balance.
