DEAR COLLEAGUE,

The Division of Cytopathology, ICMR-NICPR, in collaboration with the Department of Pathology, North DMC Medical College & Hindu Rao Hospital, Delhi is launching the 2nd DHR-funded NICPR-ECHO Online Course on Clinical Laboratory Management from May 13 till May 29, 2026. Clinical laboratories are integral to evidence-based medicine. They encompass multiple components requiring efficient management for optimal functioning, which, when done effectively, leads to higher patient satisfaction.

The training course will feature talks by experts on general management aspects, operations management, human resource management, and quality management. Didactic deliberations will be supplemented by simulated exercises related to clinical laboratory management, providing participants with a practical understanding of the challenges faced in laboratory management.

We look forward to your active participation in the course.
